

Nancy Cushen White, Ed.D. is a Clinical Professor in Pediatrics-Adolescent & Young Adult Medicine, at UCSF—and a member of the UCSF Dyslexia Research Center Team. She has taught in general/SPED classrooms at public/private schools, provided psycho-ed assessment and literacy intervention, trained pre-/in-service teachers and practitioners, developed curricula, and been involved in policy. She piloted a San Francisco Unified School District special day class for 2e—Twice Exceptional students (gifted with a diagnosis of dyslexia), has taught young adults in a pre-trial diversion program through San Francisco Superior Court—Mentor Court Division; worked as a Literacy Intervention Consultant and Case Manager for Lexicon Reading Center—Dubai—United Arab Emirates for 10 years; and trains teachers in the Slingerland Multisensory (Multimodal) Structured Language Approach (Structured Literacy) as a certified Instructor of Teaching for the Slingerland Literacy Institute.

She has received awards from organizations such as the UC Berkeley Extension (2002—Honored Instructor Award), International Dyslexia Association (IDA—2007—Margaret Byrd Rawson Lifetime Achievement Award), International Multisensory Structured Language Education Council (IMSLEC—2014—Etoile DuBard Award of Excellence), Academic Language Therapy Association (ALTA— 2016—Dr. Luke Waites Award of Service), and Northern California Branch of The International Dyslexia Association (IDA-NorCal—2019—Recognition of Extraordinary Leadership and Accomplishment). She continues to publish, present workshops, serve as editor of International Dyslexia Association's Examiner (online magazine), and to work on numerous boards and advisory boards such as the National Joint Committee on Learning Disabilities (NJCLD—IDA representative), Northern CA Branch of The International Dyslexia Association, the CA State Literacy Team., and the CA Senate Bill (SB) 488 Literacy Workgroup (CA Commission on Teacher Credentialing).

Nancy lives in San Francisco with her husband Bebo and is the humble mother of two adult sons. She has two grandsons, 10 and 8 years old.